Overflowing with ideas - and even more with gratitude.

Thank you for the votes, shares, and encouragement supporting my Top Host 2026 campaign. Please keep the support flowing and check the competition page for your next voting opportunity.

Fire Hose Greg brings a little humor to a real communication challenge: how do you turn a flood of ideas into one clear message? For this campaign, the focus is gratitude and a simple invitation to participate.

That's a useful example of the work we're developing through AMTS: shaping ideas into graphics, posts, teaching materials, and practical presentations. If your ideas are coming faster than you can organize them, I'd welcome a conversation.
