

Professor Greg | Top Host 2026

General social media

Professor Greg has a little homework for you: vote, share, and accept a very big THANK YOU!

Your encouragement and support mean so much to me. If you've already voted in Top Host 2026, thank you! Please keep supporting the campaign, check the voting page for your next opportunity, and invite a friend to join us.

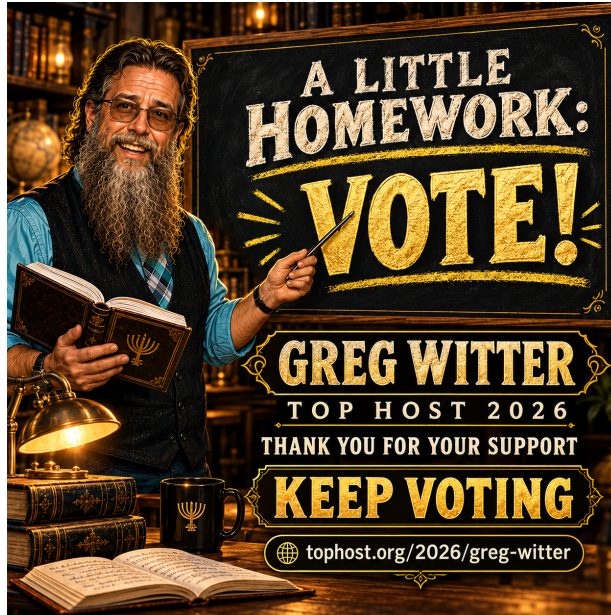

From the study desk to the microphone, I'm grateful to have you along for the journey.

A little homework from Professor Greg: keep learning, keep creating, and remember the people who help you along the way.

Thank you to everyone supporting my Top Host 2026 campaign. Every encouraging message, share, and vote is appreciated. If you've already voted, please check the competition page for your next voting opportunity.

This Professor Greg graphic is also an example of the creative work we're developing through AMTS: adapting an established character for a new purpose, then pairing it with a message suited to its audience.

Have a teaching concept or business idea you'd like to communicate more clearly? Let's talk about creating the materials or learning the process together.
